BARNHAVEN'S PLANT LIQUIDATION SALE, SUMMER-FALL, 1958

All existing plants and transplants will be sold by October, 1958, after which primroses in plant form will no longer be available from Barnhaven. Seed production and distribution continue as usual.

Barnhaven pioneered and built primroses in America during the last two decades developing, in that time, what has become the world's most beautiful colors and newest strains. The production and sale of our hardy Silver-Dollar Primroses has snow-balled beyond our ability to do both plants and seeds. We have chosen to carry on with seeds only, which will allow the time necessary to supply the demand in our country, Canada and overseas. The harvest of Silver-Dollar Polyanthus and Acaulis seed just completed is one of outstanding quality and quantity and will be available, as listed in Catalog No. 16, summer, fall, winter and spring.

The plants and transplants on hand are our famed Silver-Dollar hardy Primroses, as large or larger than a silver dollar, to be used in your shadier garden spots for late winter, early spring and spring bloom. After the existing stock has been shipped this summer and early fall, only seeds will be available from Barnhaven originals.

Orders will be filled in rotation. Please state whether substitutions are permissible. If we cannot supply, refunds will be made promptly. Also please state any vacation dates to avoid. Each order will be filled with care and sent first class.

PLEASE REFER TO YOUR CURRENT CATALOG, No. 16, for full description and culture.
